

Palace

They built it for you - but you came only once to find that it's true.

They spent gold, ounce by ounce, earned by the people, your slaves who live in ratholes, in caves, whose life is doomed when they born because of the palace on the hill forlorn.

F Sz 3 Nov 2007 Baku