

Gone

You are gone
Silence has won
You leave a shell
A soul that cannot tell

You are gone
wander beyond
If you return
My soul will burn

You are gone
I am no more one
I am torn apart
you, you are too far.

You are gone
it seems my life is done

I live like a worm
helpless, glued to the soil

You are gone
the tears carry on weeping is common Nightly light remains on

You are gone
I am in danger zone
Fragile, disposable, worthless Sad, in the dark, loveless.

You are gone
Tears carve the stone until it takes the shape of YOU.
